READ—

Government Order No. G. 14026-27—Mily. 298-29-2, dated 31st May 1930, appointing a Committee consisting of the Chief Commandant and the Inspector-General of Police, to consider in detail the Military needs of the State and report to Government.

2. Correspondence ending with letter No. C. 446-28, dated 26th May 1931, from the Chief Commandant, forwarding the final report of the Committee.

3. Correspondence ending with letter No. C. 448-28-29, dated 21st September 1931, from the Chief Commandant, submitting proposals for reorganising the Mysore Infantry.

4. Resolution of the Finance Committee dated 5th January 1932 approving of the scheme.

ORDER NO. ~~G.~~ 5440-51—MILY. 271-29-18, DATED THE 6TH JANUARY 1932.

In Government Order No. G. 14026-7, dated 31st May 1930, the Chief Commandant and the Inspector-General of Police were asked to form themselves into a Committee to examine the question of the internal security of the State in detail and submit their views to Government. The Committee have, among other things, drawn attention to the need, which has long been recognised, for reorganising the Mysore Infantry so as to make it a force of real Military value. They point out that the Mysore Infantry are dispersed over the country in small guards and have an available strength of only some 215 out of an establishment of 1,573. This dispersal prevents their being properly disciplined and trained. They are, moreover, armed for the most part with inadequate muzzle loading weapons and are therefore not of much use in case of emergency.

2. The Committee recommend, among other measures, that the Infantry should be raised to the standard of an active Battalion and that the duty of guarding Treasuries should be transferred to the Police Department.

3. In pursuance of this recommendation of the Committee the Chief Commandant has submitted detailed proposals for the reorganisation of the Mysore Infantry. In order to improve the standard of efficiency and to attract a better class of men, he proposes to increase the salaries of all ranks, more especially in the case of officers. The total cost of the proposal will, however, not exceed the present expenditure on the Infantry, since there will be a material reduction in personnel, this reduction being made possible by the increased efficiency of the new units. When the reorganisation is fully carried out, the infantry will consist of 1,264 officers and men (as against 1,573 at present), divided into three Battalions. Number I Battalion will be the Active Battalion consisting of Headquarters and four Companies. Number 2 Battalion will be training Battalion, one Company in strength, attached to the Active Battalion for general administration, so as to save a headquarters but retaining its identity and functioning as a separate entity so far as training is concerned. Number 3 Battalion will be a Garrison Duty Battalion consisting of a Headquarters and two Companies.

4. As it will take time to bring the present Infantry up to the required standard and as it will also be difficult to train the full numbers at once, it is proposed to effect the reorganisation by stages. In the first stage the strength of the force will be reduced by the elimination of the unfit to 778 officers and men and existing scale of salaries will be retained. In the second stage new companies will be formed from time to time until the full proposed strength (of 1,264) is reached and the new scale of salaries will be introduced. The process of expansion will necessarily depend on the condition of the State Finances at the time.

5. The Chief Commandant has agreed to the following measures for carrying out the reduction of the establishment contemplated in the first stage:—

(a) As many suitable officers, non-commissioned Officers and men as it may be possible to absorb in the Police Department will be offered service in that Department;

(b) All ranks of Barr Infantry who are not less than 50 years of age or have put in not less than 30 years service by 31st December 1931 will be compulsorily discharged;

(c) Option to retire will be given to all those who have rendered 25 years service and more or who are not less than 45 years of age;

(d) All ranks will be compulsorily discharged for physical unfitness, inefficiency and unsuitability for active Infantry; in the case of officers and non-commissioned Officers, after inspection and examination by the Chief Commandant. Cases of Officers selected for compulsory retirement under this head will be referred to Government;

(e) All Officers, non-commissioned Officers and men discharged whether compulsorily or at their option be given three months' pay in lieu of notice of discharge or leave on full pay up to three months at the discretion of the Chief Commandant;

(f) Those retired under clause (b) or (c) may be allowed an addition of 5 years' service and those retired under (d) three years' service. With these special additions, the pension or gratuity should be regulated by the rules in appendix "K" Mysore Service Regulations.

NOTE.—The concession under clauses (e) and (f) will be admissible only to officers, non-commissioned Officers and Men who are finally discharged from Government service and not to those who are taken over to the Police Department.

6. Government observe that these proposals follow generally the lines of the scheme of Military reorganisation sanctioned in the year 1925. The one important change now proposed is the transfer of the treasury and other guard duties to the Police, which involves the increase of the police force by 86 daffedars and 392 constables at a cost of Rs. 93,000 per annum, while it reduce the strength and cost of the Infantry.

7. The financial effect of the scheme will be as follows:—

(1) During the first stage there will be a reduction of cost to the extent of Rs. 2,13,400 per annum in the Military Department. As against this, the increase in the Police Department on account of treasury and other guard duties will be about Rs. 93,000 per annum, so that the net savings between the two departments will be about Rs. 1,20,000 per annum. Of this, however a sum of about Rs. 38,000 will be required during the first year only for the payment of cash bonuses to discharged men in lieu of three months' notice.

(2) In the second stage the extra expenditure of about Rs. 93,000 in the Police Department will continue but the savings in the Military Budget will be gradually reduced to about Rs. 17,000 and even this amount will perhaps be needed to improve the equipment of the new units. The extra cost of the Police therefore represents the ultimate recurring charge when the scheme is fully developed. The extra pension charges that will be entailed by the premature retirement of some of the members of the force are not taken into account in this calculations; but they cannot amount to a heavy sum and it is obvious that the scheme in its initial stages will result in considerable savings while the eventual commitments that it imposes are neither unduly onerous nor inflexible in character. The process of expansion contemplated in the second stage could be regulated according to the funds that might be available for the purpose from time to time.

8. The scheme is intended to meet a real want, to provide the state with a well trained and serviceable Infantry concentrated in a few places from which the troops could be transported to any part of the State within a few hours in case of emergency. As it is shown that this object could be achieved without imposing a strain on the State finances, Government consider that the introduction of the scheme need no longer be postponed. On the other hand the initial economies that it promises make it an opportune measure at the present time.

9. Government are accordingly pleased to sanction with effect from 10th January 1932 the proposals for the reorganisation of the Mysore Infantry as outlined above and more fully detailed in Statements II and III. The proposals contained in paragraph 5 above for the discharge of superfluous men and grant of pension are also approved. The Chief Commandant is requested to furnish information in due course as to the number of men discharged on pension or otherwise and of those absorbed in the Police Department on the introduction of the first stage of the scheme. The formation of new Companies and the introduction of the revised scale of salaries in the later stages will require the previous sanction of Government on each occasion.

10. Orders are issuing separately regarding the additional Police Force for the guarding of Treasuries.

N. MADHAVA RAO.

Chief Secretary to Government.
